Bridgette Coy Promoted to Program Administrator in Addiction Services Division

FRANKFORT, Ky. (June 17, 2020) – Kentucky Department of Corrections Division of Addiction Services Director Sarah Johnson announced that Bridgette Coy has been promoted to program administrator. In this new role, Coy will be leading the division’s efforts to enhance and oversee quality assurance for substance use disorder treatment programs for criminal justice involved individuals. Her promotion is effective July 1.

“We are excited to have Coy take on this new leadership role within the Division of Addiction Services,” said Johnson. “Coy has a proven track record of commitment to DOC, Addiction Services, and the clients we serve. She is a team player and offers her assistance and expertise to her colleagues whenever opportunities are presented, whether it is to assist with new employee training, covering vacancies, or volunteering to help with new initiatives.”

Coy started her professional career as a probation and parole officer within the Division of Probation and parole prior to working as a social service worker with the Department for Community Based Services. In February 2017 she began her employment with the Division of Addiction Services as a community social service clinician based out of Nelson County. She has worked for state government for 10 years.

Coy holds a bachelor’s degree in psychology and is currently under clinical supervision to earn her certification as an alcohol and drug counselor.
