Mission Statement

To enhance public safety and promote offender integration in the community through proactive supervision and referral to community-based resources.

Welcome to Probation and Parole Our goal is to provide resources and guidance to help you successfully complete supervision and maintain a productive life. Probation and Parole and our partners in Reentry and Addiction Services will work with you along the way. Together we will develop a supervision plan specific to your needs. You will play a large role in the development of that plan and an even larger role in the success of it.

A Risk Assessment will be completed together with your Officer. The risk assessment will be used to determine the best resources to help you, highlight your strengths and assess the level of supervision to aid success while on supervision. As you progress through your period of supervision, risk reassessments are conducted and may be adjusted depending on your successful progress. The number of times you will be required to meet with an Officer will depend on your supervision level and your needs. Your Officer will provide this information during your first visit.

The Case Management Plan contains items or goals designed to target your needs and utilize your strengths. Your Officer will discuss this plan with you and ask for input. You and your officer will set goals and tasks to achieve. Together you will set time frames to reach those goals and complete those tasks. Once your Officer is satisfied that you understand the plan and are committed to it, you will be given a copy.

The Conditions of Supervision provide information about what you should and should not do while on Probation or Parole. These conditions will be discussed together with your Officer at the first meeting. These will be read and explained to you. You will be given the opportunity to ask questions about them. If you are unsure about any section of your conditions, please ask your Officer to explain. After your Officer is satisfied you understand the conditions of supervision, they will ask you to sign them. Your Officer will provide you a copy of the conditions of supervision before you leave the office.

Meeting with your Officer: This is a time to ask questions, discuss your progress and set new goals. Your Officer will provide you with a date and time for each meeting. These meetings may not always be the same length. Due to security concerns, children are not allowed in our offices. So you are prepared, understand that everyone who enters any Probation & Parole office will go through a security check. We do this by using metal detectors and if warranted, a search of people and property. We ask that you do not bring electronic devices or food and drinks to the office.

What should you do if you need to reschedule your report time? It is always important to follow the terms of your supervision obligation and report as directed. However, if you are unable to meet with your Officer, contact them to reschedule your appointment. Your Officer will provide you with a contact phone number to reach them. You will also be given a phone number to the Probation Office you will report to.

Meeting with your Officer There are some routine items that will be discussed and procedures that will be followed. Every client is required to complete a Releasee's Report. This report is available in the office lobby and shall be completed while you are waiting to see your Officer. The report is a way for you to provide basic information to your Officer. You should fill out this report each time you visit, it is important to provide any change of address, phone number or circumstances.

Your Officer will most likely ask if you have made payments towards your drug testing fees, supervision fees or restitution. Drug testing fees can be made online by using the Access Corrections App or in some offices, at a kiosk. Supervision fees, restitution payments, fines and court costs can be made at your local Circuit Court Clerk's Office or through the P&P Kiosks or make a payment at an approved retailer location, visit <https://www.cashpaytoday.com/locations>. Your Officer will discuss payment details during your first meeting with your Officer. Always retain your receipt as verification, provide this to your Officer who will credit your account.

You may be asked to provide a urine sample for Drug Testing. This helps your Officer and Addiction Services Social Service Clinician determine if you are in need treatment or recovery support services to address a substance use disorder. If you have a substance use disorder, there are many treatment and recovery services available. The on-site Social Service Clinician will work with you to determine which treatment and recovery service options will address your specific need. Options range from support group attendance, out-patient treatment, intensive out-patient, to placement in a residential treatment facility.

Your Officer may visit your home on occasion. Home Visits are not announced ahead of time. We encourage you to tell those that live with you that we may come to visit so that they are not alarmed. When Officers visit clients in the community or at their home, they will be dressed differently than in the office. They will be wearing bulletproof vests labeled “Parole”. Officers are required to work in pairs while visiting homes. Therefore, there will be at least two Officers present during a visit to your home. It is important that your Officer knows your address. If you change residences, please notify your Officer and add your new address to your next releasee report. Visiting your home gives an Officer an opportunity to assess your living situation. If needed, there are resources available for domestic needs. Officers and our partners in Reentry have a network of providers that can assist with housing, clothing, food and other services.

The county that you live in is your Area of Supervision. We understand that you may need to travel outside of this area. Notify your Officer if you intend to leave the area for any reason. Extended stays or overnight stays require that the Officer give you written permission in the form of a travel permit. The Officer will ask that you provide the address and phone number for the place you will be staying. When the travel permit is complete and approved it will be available for pick up at the Probation and Parole office. You and your Officer will sign the travel permit. Keep the travel permit safe, this is your authorization to travel. Upon return, you should contact your officer as instructed.

Employment may be one of the goals that you set with your Officer. We will work with our partners in Reentry to help you locate a job. Our Employment Specialist has a network of potential employers available. These employers are willing to hire people with a criminal past.
