Some other benefits available to qualified KTAP recipients include:

SNAP (Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program)

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) helps low-income people buy food for healthy meals at participating stores. Kentucky SNAP benefits increase household food buying power when added to the household's income.

The following people must be included in one household account, regardless of whether they purchase and prepare meals separately:

- A spouse of any household member.
- Parents living with their natural, adopted or stepchildren who are age 21 or younger.
 - Children younger than 18 who are dependents of an adult household member.

Eligibility

Any household meeting basic income and other requirements may be able to receive SNAP benefits.

1. Citizenship - Only U.S. citizens and some legal foreign residents of the United States may receive food benefits.
2. Work Registration - Anyone in a household who is 18 to 59 years old and can work must register for, look for and accept work. There are some exceptions to this requirement.
3. Resources - A household may have no more than $2,250 in cash and bank account assets. If a member of the household is 60 or older, the household may have no more than $3,500 in resources. Some resources not used to calculate household assets include the dwelling, its contents and personal belongings. Vehicles are also excluded.
4. Income - The amount of money a household can receive and still be eligible to receive SNAP benefits depends on household size. Money from wages or other payments to any household member is counted as income.

Can I get SNAP benefits right away?

You may qualify for SNAP benefits soon after applying under certain circumstances:

- Your household's monthly rent/mortgage and utilities costs are more than its gross monthly income.
- Your household's gross monthly income is less than $150 and resources, such as cash or bank accounts, total $100 or less.
- Your household includes members who are destitute migrant or seasonal farm workers.

Legal Rights

As a SNAP applicant, you have the right to:

- Submit a SNAP application the same day you contact DCBS to apply for this benefit.
- Receive approval or denial of their SNAP application within 30 days of applying.
 - Receive SNAP benefits within a few days if you meet certain qualifications.
 - Request a fair hearing if you disagree with any action taken in your case.

Child Support

Kentucky Child Support Enforcement has an interactive website where you can apply for child support services, estimate a child support obligation, make your child support payments, report address changes, upload court orders and other legal documents, verify payment history and past due child support amounts and request updates on ongoing child support actions.

Child Support Enforcement in the Department for Income Support provides assistance to parents with minor children seeking financial support from a noncustodial parent. Every child has a legal right to financial support from both parents. Here are some Frequently Asked Questions about Child Support

How to Apply for Child Support Enforcement Services

Child support enforcement services are automatically provided to current and former recipients of K-TAP and public medical assistance. Your K-TAP caseworker will refer your case to the appropriate child support office.

Those not receiving K-TAP or medical assistance can apply for child support enforcement services on the Kentucky Child Support interactive website or go to their local office to complete an application for child support services.

The following forms should also be completed by the applicant:

Authorization and Acknowledgement of No Legal Representation explains that county attorneys employed by the Cabinet for Health and Family Services represent the state and not the applicant.

Custodial Parent Affidavit is a sworn statement of the amount of support paid to the custodial parent.

Authorization for Electronic Deposit of Child Support Payments

How to Calculate Your Child Support Obligation

A calculation tool is available on the Kentucky Child Support Interactive Website.

You also may use the following forms to calculate the amount of child support a noncustodial parent must pay. The CS-71.1 is only used when one parent has 100 percent of the total income for the family. When printing these forms, you must also print a copy of the Child Support Guidelines Table to complete the worksheet.

CS-71.1 - Worksheet For Monthly Child Support Obligation Exception

Where to Send Child Support Payments

Payments can be made on the Kentucky Child Support Interactive Website. Please make checks payable to the Kentucky Child Support Enforcement Program and send to the following address:

P.O. Box 14059
Lexington, KY 40512-4059

How to Request a Review and Modification

A written request for a review must be submitted to the local child support office handling your case, along with income information such as W2s, tax returns, and pay stubs. Proof of day care expenses and health insurance costs should also be provided with the review request whenever possible.

There must be a substantial and continuing change that results in the support obligation going up or down by 15% or more before the local office will file a legal action to change the amount.

If a participant on a case requests an increase in child support and it is found that the new child support amount actually qualifies for a decrease, the child support office may then proceed with action to decrease the child support. The same applies when a participant requests a decrease, and the case actually qualifies for an increase.

Private Wage Withholding Cases

Private attorneys must use the Federal Income Withholding Order to notify an employer of an income withholding. Private attorneys refer to the Procedural Instructions to complete the form for a Kentucky child support order.

Medicare

Medicare is available for people aged 65 or older, younger people with disabilities and people with End Stage Renal Disease (permanent kidney failure requiring dialysis or transplant). Medicare has two parts, Part A (Hospital Insurance) and Part B (Medicare Insurance). You are eligible for premium-free Part A if you are age 65 or older and you or your spouse worked and paid Medicare taxes for at least 10 years.

You can get Part A at age 65 without having to pay premiums if:

You are receiving retirement benefits from Social Security or the Railroad Retirement Board.

You are eligible to receive Social Security or Railroad benefits, but you have not yet filed for them.

You or your spouse had Medicare-covered government employment.

Medicare has four parts:

Part A (Hospital Insurance)

Part B (Medicare Insurance)

Part C (Medicare Advantage Plans)

Part D (Drug Coverage)

Parts of Medicare

Part A premium (Hospital Insurance) helps cover:

Inpatient care in hospitals, skilled nursing facility care, hospice care, and home health care.

Most people don't pay a premium for Part A coverage. This is sometimes called "premium-free Part A." You won't pay a Part A premium if you:

Qualify to get (or are already getting) retirement or disability benefits from Social Security (or the Railroad Retirement Board).

Get Medicare earlier than 65.

Are 65 or older and you (or another qualifying person, like your current or former spouse) paid Medicare taxes while working for a certain amount of time (usually at least 10 years).

If you don't qualify for premium-free Part A, you might be able to buy it.

Medicare cont....

Part B Premium (Medical Insurance) helps cover:

Services from doctors and other health care providers

Outpatient care

Home health care

Durable medical equipment (like wheelchairs, walkers, hospital beds, and other equipment)

Many preventive services (like screenings, shots, or vaccines, and yearly “Wellness” visits)

Part B Premium

You’ll pay a premium for Part B coverage every month, even if you don’t get any Part B-covered services. The monthly premium can change each year and may be higher depending on your income.

Most people don’t get a bill from Medicare because they get the premium deducted automatically from their Social Security, Railroad Retirement Board, or Civil Service Retirement check. If you don’t get any of these payments, you’ll get a bill for your Part B premium so you can pay Medicare directly.

Estimate your Part A and Part B Medicare eligibility & premiums at this link Eligibility & Premium Calculator | Medicare

Part C premium

Monthly premiums for Part C coverage vary based on which plan you join. The premium amount can change each year.

Part D Premium (Drug coverage)

Since January 1, 2006, everyone with Medicare, regardless of income, health status, or prescription drug usage has had access to prescription drug coverage.

Helps cover the cost of prescription drugs (including many recommended shots or vaccines).

You join a Medicare drug plan in addition to Original Medicare, or you get it by joining a Medicare Advantage Plan with drug coverage. Plans that offer Medicare drug coverage are run by private insurance companies that follow rules set by Medicare.

Monthly premiums for Part D coverage vary based on which plan you join. The premium amount can change each year. You may also have to pay an extra amount each month based on your income.

Eligibility

To find out if you are eligible and your expected premium:

<https://www.medicare.gov/eligibility-tool>

If you (or your spouse) did not pay Medicare taxes while you worked, and you are age 65 or older and a citizen or permanent resident of the United States, you may be able to buy Part A. If you are under age 65, you can get Part A without having to pay premiums if:

You have been entitled to Social Security or Railroad Retirement Board disability benefits for 24 months. (Note: If you have Lou Gehrig's disease, your Medicare benefits begin the first month you get disability benefits.)

You are a kidney dialysis or kidney transplant patient.

While most people do not have to pay a premium for Part A, everyone must pay for Part B if they want it. This monthly premium is deducted from your Social Security, Railroad Retirement, or Civil Service

Retirement check. If you do not get any of these payments, Medicare sends you a bill for your Part B premium every 3 months.

Medigap - Medicare Supplemental Insurance

Extra insurance you can buy from a private company that helps pay your share of costs in Original Medicare. Policies are standardized, and in most states named by letters, like Plan G or Plan K. The benefits in each lettered plan are the same, no matter which insurance company sells it.

Your Medicare options

When you first sign up for Medicare and during certain times of the year, you can choose which way to get your Medicare coverage.

There are 2 main ways

Original Medicare	Medicare Advantage (also known as Part C)
Original Medicare includes Part A and Part B. You can join a separate Medicare drug plan to get Medicare drug coverage (Part D). You can use any doctor or hospital that takes Medicare, anywhere in the U.S. To help pay your out-of-pocket costs in Original Medicare (like your 20% coinsurance), you can also buy supplemental coverage, like Medicare Supplement Insurance (Medigap), or have coverage from a former employer or union, or Medicaid	Medicare Advantage is a Medicare-approved plan from a private company that offers an alternative to Original Medicare for your health and drug coverage. These “bundled” plans include Part A, Part B, and usually Part D. In most cases, you’ll need to use doctors who are in the plan’s network. Plans may have lower out-of-pocket costs than Original Medicare. Plans may offer some extra benefits that Original Medicare doesn’t cover — like vision, hearing, and dental services.

What’s the difference between Medicare & Medicaid?

Medicare is a medical insurance program for people over 65 and younger disabled people and dialysis patients. Medicaid is an assistance program for low-income patients' medical expenses for those under 65 with certain disabilities or conditions. Medicaid is a joint federal and state program that provides health coverage for some people with limited income and resources. Medicaid offers benefits, like nursing home care, personal care services, and assistance paying for Medicare premiums and other costs.

*If you qualify, you can have both Medicare and Medicaid.

Social Security Disability Income (SSDI) & Retirement, Survivors, and Disability Insurance (RSDI)

The Basics About Disability Benefits

The SSDI program pays benefits to you and certain family members if you are “insured.” This means that you worked long enough – and recently enough - and paid Social Security taxes on your earnings. The SSI program pays benefits to adults and children who meet our requirements for a qualifying disability and have limited income and resources. While these two programs are different, the medical requirements are the same. If you meet the nonmedical requirements, monthly benefits are paid if you have a medical condition expected to last at least one year or result in death.

How to apply:

Whether you apply online, by phone, or in person, the disability benefits application process follows these general steps:

You gather the information and documents you need to apply. We recommend you print and review the Adult Disability Checklist. It will help you gather the information and documents you need to complete the application.

1. You complete and submit your application.
2. We review your application to make sure you meet our basic requirements for disability benefits.
3. We confirm you worked enough years to qualify.
4. We evaluate any current work activities.
5. We process your application and forward your case to the Disability Determination Services office in your state.
6. This state agency makes the disability determination decision.
7. To learn more about who decides if you have a disability, read our publication Disability Benefits.

Once You've Applied

Processing time for disability applications vary depending on the nature of the disability, necessary medical evidence or examinations, and applicable quality reviews. Once we receive your application, we'll review it and contact you if we have questions. We might request additional documents from you before we can proceed.

Look For Our Response

When the state agency makes a determination on your case, you'll receive a letter in the mail with our decision. It generally takes three to six months for an initial decision. If you included information about other family members when you applied, we'll let you know if they may be able to receive benefits on your record.

Check The Status

You can check the status of your application online using your personal my Social Security account. If you are unable to check your status online, you can call us 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778) from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Appeal A Decision

You have the right to appeal any decision we make about whether you're entitled to benefits. You must request an appeal in writing within 60 days after you receive the notice of our decision.

There are four levels of appeal:

Reconsideration.

Hearing by an administrative law judge.

Review by the Appeals Council.

Federal Court Review.

The TEFAP program also provides food to local soup kitchens.

There is no income requirement to receive a meal at a soup kitchen.

Eligibility

To learn more about TEFAP contact a distribution site or soup kitchen in your county.
